ITALY AND FRANCE IN SECRET TALK

ANGLO-GERMAN ACCORD CAUSES CONFUSION

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinanae, 1894. Received, June 29, 9 a.m.)

London, June 28. There is considerable confusion in Europe at the moment resulting from the signature of the Anglo-German naval agreement and France and Italy appear to be moving in collaboration to find a means of safeguarding the peace of the Continent in the event of Italy becoming preoccupied with a war in Abyssinia.

In Paris there have been charges made that Germany is one vast munitions factory and for this reason the French Government is taking steps to meet any possible eventuality, voting immense sums for the strengthening of her fighting services.

The Anglo-German naval pact does not seem to have brought the nations any nearer a naval armament limitation agreement. On the contrary, it has aroused intense antagonism on the Continent.

The first upset in the Wimbledon tournament occurred to-day when, in the third round of the women's singles Mrs. Fearnley Whittingstill, who a few months ago had abaost decided to retire from first class tennis, defeated Miss Peggy Scriven, one of the three seeded English girls, 6-3, 6-2.

This was the more surprising in view of the recent performances of Miss Scriven, whose play this year has been markedly improved.

Misa Katherine Stammers, British hard court champion, continued to play aggressively and gave the best performance of her career when she eliminated the Chilean star. Senorita Anita Lizana. The English girl won,

Other third-rounders to advance vere Miss Jean Saunders, Britain, who defeated the British international player, Miss Mary Heeley, 6-2, 6-4, and Miss Joan Hartigan, who beat Mile. Meulemeester of Belgium, 4-6, 6-1, 10-8. Dorothy Round beat Hargraves, also of Britain, and so went to the last sixteen.

CURRENCY CONTROL MAY BE GOAL

BRITAIN AND AMERICA TO CO-OPERATE

Washington, June 28.

Because it is feared that Japan may be seeking to control China's currency, it is believed that Great Britain and the United States may take some action to prevent it. America is making an unofficial study of the effect of her silver policy upon China and the Silver Bloc in the Senate is campaigning for more activity on the part of the Treasury in following out the purchase programme in respect of the white metal. These are the latest developments in the silver tangle.

Well-informed official sources disclosed to-day that Mr. James Moffett of the Federal Housing Corporation is making a study for President Roosevelt of the effect of the American silver policy upon China.

The White House denied that Mr. Moffett hadbeen delegated officially to make a formal study. It is explained that Mr. Moffett went to President Roosevelt with plans for a vacation cruise to China and the President suggested that while in China he might observe conditions and report to him after his vacation.

Jubilee Films to Be Preserved

HISTORIC RECORD

Leading cities of Great Britain and the capitals of the Dominions have accepted a sound film record of the pageant of the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations.

The film is the Jubilee issue of the Universal British Talking News, which contains not only a panorama of the processions and celebrations on Jubilee Day, but features important and interesting events of the King's reign as well.

Copies of the film have also been accepted by the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominions of Canada, New Zealand and Newfoundland, the Union of South Africa, British India, and the Colony of Southern Rhodesin, and are to be Bent from London by the High Commissioners concerned.

This way of recording history was conceived by S. F. Ditcham, managing director of Universal Pictures.

"In obtaining the pictures of the Silver Jubilee celebration," he said, "I considered that we had recorded a page of magnificent British history, of both interest and value to future generations. It seemed a pity to use the films for the one occasion only, and consequently I approached the Lord Mayors and High Commissioners and suggested that they might each care to accept a copy for their official records and archives.

"The Lord Mayor of Bristol has arranged to pass on to his successor the recommendation that the film he shown publicly to the young people of his city on each anniversary of His Majesty's Jubilee. The Lord Mayor of Liverpool agreed that the suggestion to show it annually was well worth con-

WARNING!

The Danger of Careless Reduction.

\\/EICHT reduction may be dangerous if carried out recklessly. Pounds should never be eliminated too rapidly, and individuals past middle age should not attempt to reduce without consulting a doctor, especially when a large amount of weight is to be reduced.

For those who do not wish to bother with calories and strict dieting "ENDOXIDINA" is a-safe and sure way to bring the weight back to normal. A great number of persons throughout the world have been benefited by taking ENDOXIDINA tablets, and it can be safely tried because Endoxidina does not cause the disturbances frequently accompanying the use of other reducing medicines, as for instance the thyroid preparations.

ENDOXIDINA possesses energetic oxidizing properties in the organism of man, and induces in the obese subject a gradual and slow decrease in-bodily weight through an increase in organic combustion and a consumption of the excessive reserve of fat without obliging the person to make excessive restrictions in the use of food.

The action of ENDOXIDINA is sure,—and it is harmless! If will not only reduce your weight, but it will keep you slim, and give you a sense of well being,alightness,—and greater agility! Its effects are not lacking when other usual remedies have given no, or slight results. ENDOXIDINA has proved to be an excellent co-efficient in the regular reduction of superfluous weight!

A monumental feat in construction speed and engineering skill achieved by the Soviet government, the great Moscow subway, nearly eight miles long, is traversed daily by thousands of passengers since its recent opening. This picture gives striking evidence of the effort to make it the most beautiful underground traffic artery in the world. The Lenin Library station, shown here, has striking lighting effects, lofty vaulted ceilings, and wall and pillars sheathed with marble in varied colours.

girl who abhors duels, and then the commodors and Crosby are forced to Queen's Theatre. A medley of song and entertainment, centring about Fields, the picture stars the famous comedian with Bing Crosby and Joan Bennett. Crosby plays the part of a Yankee youth in the old South of crinoline days who falls into disgrace and loses his sweetheart because of his unwillingness to duel with ever belligerent stranger. The cld Commodore takes Crosby in tow, and between them they soon establish a reputation for the boy as the "Singing Killer", the most dangerous man with the sweetest voice on the father of rivers. Crosby falls in love with a gill who abhors duels, and then the commodors and Crosby are forced to unravel the reputation. One of the largest production numbers of "Mississippi". Is written about a novel arrangement of that favourite of all river songs—"Swance". Rodgers and Hart, famous songwriting team, composed four new tunes, including "Soon" and "It's Ensy to Remember." Directed by Edward Sutherland from an adaptation of the play by Booth Tarkington, "Mississippi" features Queenie—Smith, Gail Patrick and other notable players in the supporting roles.

The green marks show where gypsum has been taken out to make plaster of Paris (which really comes from Paris), and those galleries are not practical, for a slight shock would be enough to bring down their soft crumbly walls. The blue streak is the Bievre, Paris' underground River, which ambles out of sight through the Latin Quarter into the Beine, known only to antiquarians and moles. Perhaps it will be rediscovered in the next war, if Parisians are forced to take to the earth like prairie dogs.

The entacombs form only 1-700th of Paris' subterranean passages. The yellow areas cover almost all of the 13th, 14th and 15th arrondissements, the southwest quadrant of Paris, and stretch well out into the suburbs. Across the river, there are large yellow areas extending outward from the Trocadero. Under the Trocadero itself are subterranean - galleries from which some of the stone for the building was taken which were used ones for overflow exhibits during an exposition, and which it is proposed to use during the exposition of 1937 for a wine cellar. #### LEAGUE FOOTBALL IN ENGLAND

The Football League Clubs refused to make any reform in the manner their games are controlled or change the methods of promotion and relegation.

Everton's proposal that the tworeferees system be used in the First Second Division matches next senson was lost by 31 votes to 18, while the proposal of Mr. Bendle Moore (Derby County), affecting promotion and relegation, failed to secure the necessary three-quarters majority. Mr. Moore asked that four clubs, instead of two, he promoted to and relegated from the First Division and two from each section of the Third Division promoted to the Second Mr. A. J. Darnell (Northampton Town) urged acceptance on behalf of Third Division clubs. The voting was closer than in previous years, and Mr. Darnell afterwards stated that the votes of four more clubs would have seen the reform carried. .

A debate on the two-referees proposal produced an attack on the single-referee system by Mr. W. C Cuff, the Everton chairman. "Our complaint is that referces are not up with the play. They are inefficient and not capable of dealing with the play as it should be dealt with. There is widespread dissatisfaction. That dissatisfaction has, at times, been such as to jeopardise the status of the clubs in the divisions in which they function.

"It is a positive evil at the present moment. In the Third Divisions it has imperilled the very existence of those clubs (those in danger of seeking re-election)."

MR, McKENNA'S VIEWS In Mr. McKenna's opinion las venr's list of referees was one of the best the League had had for some time. There might be a couple of wenk ones. control with and without linesmen, Mr. W. P. Harper, the referee, submitted linesmen might be adhered to, but only for the purpose of saying when the ball goes over the line and seeing throws-in are correctly taken. Mr. C. 'E. Sutcliffe, speaking in favour of two referees, revealed that only five officials last season received 75 per cent. marks, Everyone was crying out for better football. There was no reflection against the referces. It was the system the was weak. There were too many injured players, ed to lose the cup." and too much unfair play going on behind the back of the referee. With two referees this could be stopped. At the Council meeting the question of referees was also brought up, but the only decision on this subject was that a referee who had lost the sight of an eye may not be registered by a County Association.

The numbering of players, the appointment of stewards to report on referees' conduct at matches, and a proposal to ask the Football Association to arrange later dates for the third and subsequent rounds of the Challenge Cup did not come up for discussion. The four clubs which finished at the bottom of the two sections of the Third Division last season were reelected. The voting went as follows: Southern Section: Southend United 48: Newport County, 43: Bath City, 6:

Folkestone 1. Northern Section: Southport 46; Carlisle United, 46; Shrewsbury Town, Division.

Sutcliffe were re-elected President and Vice-President of the Football League. Sir Charles Clegg, Messrs. A. G. Hines and W. Pickford were re-elected the Appeals Committee. Messes, P. Bach (Middlesbrough), C. Cuff (Everton), and T. A. Barcroft (Blackpool), were re-elected to the Management Committee. Mr. J. J. Edwards (Arsenal) failed to secure one of the three vacancies.

Can a batsman be given out after the umpires have begun to draw stumps at close of play?

The point arose in the Surrey v. Essex match at the Oval on June 1. Off the last ball of the day Peter Smith (Essex) hit a ball into the gully to Gamble (Surrey).

Brown, the umpire at the bowling end, started to remove the stumps. Apparently he was unsighted as to some very fine saves by D (S) Com- whether or not it was a catch. E.R.T. #### CONTRACT BRIDGE

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

By W. E. McKenney

Too many players bid and play only their own 13 cards. these people will not learn that bridge is a partnership game, is hard to understand.

Here is a hand that I witnessed CAWNPORE in a recent duplicate match and I was surprised at the amount of DELIN complaining that East did. He HAIPHONG blamed his partner for bidding too much and then complained about the hard luck of the hand.

The Bidding

West's double of one heart is in- Howrah formatory, asking his partner to bid. When the bidding comes around to East, even though his hand is practically worthless, he must bid.

To double one major shows strength in the other major; therefore, many East players holding four spades would be inclined to bid one spade, thinking they were keeping the bidding low and, in addition, knowing that their part ner had some strength in spades

To bid one spade on this type of a hand is not looking ahead far enough. If you do bid a spade, with it. and your partner has a powerful hand, he may do exactly as the with your ten of spades, not the West player did in this hand, jump eight spot. South's queen of clubs the contract to four.

The better bid on this type of a hand is two diamonds. When the partner bids two spades, you will be able to pass.

However, if you find yourself in a four spade contract, it is up to you to try to make the most of the cards. The hand can be made as follows:

The Play

If South opens the king of clubs, the tricklis won in dummy with the ace. Now you must picture the South hand.

South, to double, must hold same strength in trump. Undoubtedly he has the ace, jack. You should endeavour to make as many trump as you wan, separately.

Your next play should be a small club from dummy, ruffing with the three of spades. A small heart is led and the queen finessed, another with the seven of spades.
